

ULTIMATE WINERY EXPERIENCES AUSTRALIA

THE LANE VINEYARD

REGION

Adelaide Hills - South Australia

The Adelaide Hills region is known for its elegant cool climate wines. Located in the Mount Lofty Ranges 20 minutes east of Adelaide, the region is Australia's largest geographical wine region, and one of the most diverse in terms of climate, soil and topography.

The region's coolest areas are suited to Chardonnay and Pinot Noir varieties and produce renowned sparkling and table wines. In warmer areas Riesling, Sauvignon Blanc and Pinot Gris are successful.

Tour the region to experience its spectacular combination of winding roads, quaint villages, apple and cherry orchards, and roadside produce.

WINERY

The Lane Vineyard

The Lane Vineyard personifies rural Australia yet it is a mere stone's throw from Adelaide in South Australia. Hidden in the Adelaide Hills, just 3kms from the historic village of Hahndorf, you can quickly be a world away.

The Lane is a vineyard with a state-of-the-art winery, restaurant and cellar door and is home to the Edwards family who grow every berry and make every drop to bring the beauty of their vineyard into your glass of wine.

Wine Varieties

Chardonnay, Pinot Gris, Sauvignon Blanc, Semillon, Shiraz, Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot

This has meant focusing on varieties that thrive on ancient gravelly soils 400 meters above sea level, being patient with the long slow ripening period of the Adelaide Hills and adapting to a regime of minimal intervention in the vineyard and winery. Here the Grange story started, and dine on South Australian produce in the award-winning restaurant.
